

Mockup Feedback

Hi Emily,

Great job on the mockup! You pretty much nailed what I was looking for, especially in terms of the fun design. I especially appreciate how you created your own elements to weave through each page consistently yet not identically – it really keeps the website very exciting to follow.

Here are a few notes I have:

- The navigation sidebar looks great, but I just think it could be narrower to make more room for the main content. About 75% of the current width would probably be ideal.
- I love the colors and circle elements you used for the backgrounds of the main pages. For the About and Sources pages, I would prefer versions of those backgrounds instead of the water, which seems more distracting than the simple bubble shapes.
- This might be improved with the previously described change to the backgrounds, but the movie logo on the About and Sources pages is difficult to see. I still think it's helpful to mention the movie on these pages especially, so I would either consider a different image or a background for the logo that makes sure it doesn't get lost in the page.
- I like the pictures you used for the Plot page, and it makes me think the About and Reception pages could use an image or two.
 - For the About page, maybe the poster from the first movie or a cast photo like the one at the top of the Plot page would be helpful.
 - A photo from an award show or the premiere seems appropriate for the Reception page.

Thanks for your work on this website, I'm excited to see the final product!
